

Affiliate Membership - Criteria

1. You are either
 - (a) a person who has an interest in the field of sexual health, couple and relationship work - this would normally be through your work, ie in the area of urology, GUM, oncology, family planning, obstetrics and gynaecology or other sexual health work, maybe as a doctor, nurse, midwife, psychologist, health visitor and other allied professionals; or
 - (b) you are a retired practitioner of sexual and relationship therapy who was previously a General or Accredited member of BASRT and would like to remain involved with the profession.
2. You are not an active practitioner of sexual, couple or relationship therapy in the UK or Ireland (you may be a practitioner of sexual and relationship therapy overseas).
3. You support the Aims and Objectives of BASRT as laid down in the current Memorandum and Articles and accept its governance.
4. You accept BASRT Rule Six which covers Affiliate Membership.
5. You are covered by a code of ethics and practice and complaints procedure of another professional body if you are still practicing in your own field.

On receipt of your completed application form and reference, your application will be processed. An offer of Affiliate membership is only valid for three months so please send your subscription on receipt of the offer.

Affiliate members do not have voting rights. Affiliate members do not sign up to our Code of Ethics & Practice and are not covered by our Complaints Procedure. Affiliate Membership to the British Association for Sexual and Relationship Therapy is not a qualification and must not be represented as such.
